TUITION FEE WAIVER AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Students may apply for the Japanese Government (Monbukagakusho) scholarship prior to arriving in Japan. For further information, please contact Japanese Embassy in your country.

Privately-funded students can apply for scholarships through the university, after their arrival in Japan. Associations such as Kagawa University and other private foundations provide the scholarships and set the application periods. As such, the required qualifications and the given stipends differ from one scholarship to another. For details, please inquire at the Educational Affairs Section of each Faculty or Graduate School after entering Kagawa University.

In addition, international students in the degree seeking courses with outstanding academic records and who face financial difficulties may apply for full or partial tuition fee waivers. Applicants need to pass the screening test conducted by the university.

Furthermore, tuition fee deferrals and monthly payment instalment schemes are available.

Private Housing

In general, students should visit a real estate agency to find an apartment by themselves.

Kagawa University Co-op may assist students who wish to live in private apartments near the university. Monthly rent varies from ¥20,000 to ¥60,000 depending on room size and other factors.

Once details have been settled between the landlord and the potential tenant, a rental contract is drawn up. When concluding a rental contract, a guarantor is usually needed. An international student in Kagawa can request Kagawa Prefecture International Exchange Association to be a guarantor when renting private housing. To qualify for this program, an international student first needs to have General Housing Compensation Insurance. For details, contact the Educational Affairs Section of each Faculty or Graduate School, or Administrative Group.
