

Seto Inland Sea Regional Research Center and Fisheries Oceanography held Academic lecture.

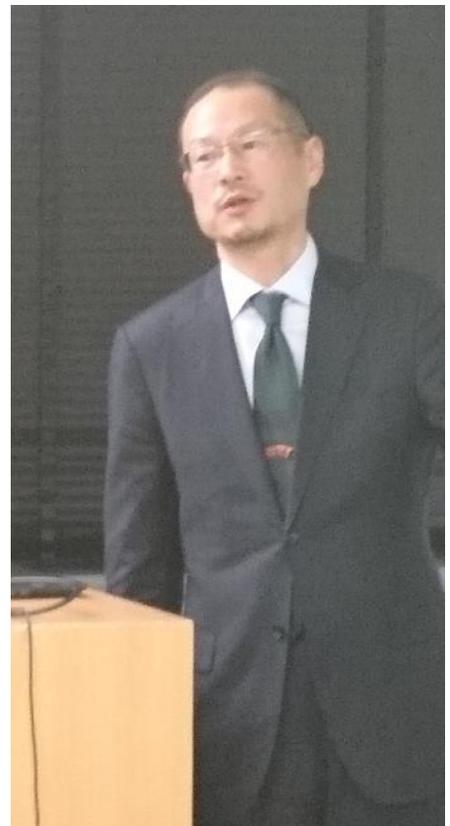

The academic lecture was held December 18, 2019 at Faculty of Agriculture, Kagawa University. The lecturer was Dr. Tetsuya Nishikawa who was senior researcher in Hyogo Fisheries Technology Center. The title was “Study on nutrient uptake ability of diatoms causing laver discoloration”.

Dr. Nishikawa so far has researched about Diatoms causing laver discoloration, and Sand lance, etc. He had written a lot of papers.

Many of undergraduate and graduate students gathered to the lecture had read Dr. Nishikawa paper, and they continued questions and debates after the lecture by remained at the venue.

Self-introduction

Word of encouragement to students after the lecture

Start of lecture

Lecture in Dr. Nishikawa